Disability RMS to Present at Society of Actuaries' Health 2009 Spring Meeting

Vice President to Offer Insights on Worksite Disability Product Pairings

WESTBROOK, Maine — May 18, 2009 — Disability RMS, the nation's leading provider of turnkey disability risk management products and services, today announced that Gregory J. Dulac will present at the Society of Actuaries' Health 2009 Spring Meeting set for June 8-10 in Toronto, Canada. Dulac, vice president of business development, will participate in a panel discussion analyzing how U.S. and Canadian insurers have achieved links between disability coverage and other forms of insurance. The session, titled "Beyond Disability: Critical Illness, Long-Term Care and Group Life," will be held on June 10 (10–11:30 a.m.) at the Westin Harbour Castle, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

"Most companies that offer disability insurance offer a variety of related products as well," said Dulac. "Understanding why it makes sense to pair a particular set of products is the first step in developing an offering that has appeal to the broker, policyholder and consumer."

Dulac leads the Disability RMS business development function and brings to his role more than 20 years of disability insurance industry experience in areas including underwriting, claims management and product development. Prior to joining Disability RMS in the late 1990s, he spent eight years in the underwriting and claims departments at Unum.

The Society of Actuaries is the largest actuarial professional organization in the world and its vision is for actuaries to be recognized as leading professionals in the modeling and management of financial and contingent events.
